GROUP AND TEAM PROGRAM DESIGN AND COACHING SKILLS

Creating exceptional group and team programs is increasingly a competitive advantage for coaches, as well as trainers and facilitators. Are you looking to launch a new group program? Wanting to expand your reach? Been asked to design a workshop or retreat? Hoping to give a webinar that will WOW?

Work with the best – the woman who literally wrote the books on group and team coaching, Jennifer Britton. Whether you are designing a workshop, retreat, teleclass, webinar, or group or team coaching program, consider individual and group support offerings – live as well as on-demand. Jennifer has worked with groups and teams globally since the late 1980s and is known for her ability to listen as well as her extensive knowledge and road-tested, practical tips from designing and facilitating tens of thousands of hours of group and team programs (virtual, live, on-demand etc.) over the last 25 plus years. She's also been facilitating train-the-trainers since 2000 and coach-the-coach programs since 2004. Jenn is a Professional Certified Coach, a Certified Co-active Coach (CPCC) and speaks widely to professionals in the coaching and training industries.
